Osawatomie Is My Home

Osawatomie is a fantastic place. It is my home and I am so glad I can call it my home. The reason why I love Osawatomie is that there are so many amazing things to do here, like visiting some old places like Mills House, John Brown battleground, Old stone church, or even one of the museums we have here in Osawatomie. No matter how many people live in Osawatomie they will always be there for you and be looking out for you. Even when we might be going down the road in the car or just walking on the sidewalk and you see people and it is like you know all of them and they are family to you. That is what makes Osawatomie so special.

Here in Osawatomie, it smells like gasoline, dead animals, and even exhaust, but just cause it smells that way doesn't mean it isn't a fantastic place. So maybe you can hear a bunch of cars and people talking and trains, but that is what makes Osawatomie home to so many people, home to me. We have some amazing police and firefighters and they would do anything for this town, even if that means risking their lives for it. Even though we don't have a Walmart here we still have amazing things to do like go eat at Sonic, La Hacienda, Whistle-Stop, On Point, and even the Chinese Restaurant. I love just walking around Osawatomie and feeling the breeze and seeing the murals that people have designed.

These are the reasons why I love Osawatomie. It is even the reason that I can call Osawatomie my home.
